

XM satellite recently began providing me, as an XM subscriber, local weather and traffic advisories. Any attempt by the NAB to stifle their competition is unfair and laughable. I have found XM's weather and traffic service to far better serve my needs than the service provided by my local broadcasters. It would be a shame to allow the NAB, with their gigantic lobbying power, to squash this wonderful new service. As a paid subscriber, I do not understand why the NAB would be allowed to determine the content provided by XM.
